NURSERY NEWS

By Mr Hudson

Thank you for making the Stay and Play sessions so successful. It was great to see so many parents and children together and the positive interactions that support children's individual learning and development in the nursery.

We hope that you were able to take some of the ideas, activities and opportunities and replicate them in the home environment, for example the use of treasure baskets, the making of play dough etc.

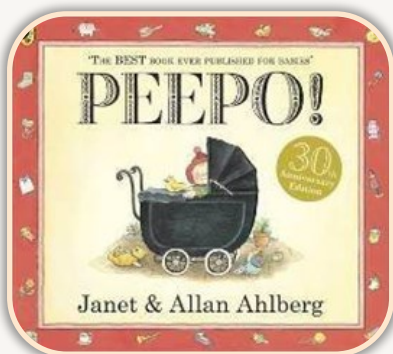

RECEPTION NEWS

By Mrs Azzouz

We started our new topic, 'Long Ago', by looking at how life has changed over time. We compared objects from the past with some we use today, and the children enjoyed grouping pictures in two categories: old and modern.

We also explored a book called 'Peepo' by Allan Ahlberg. This book gave the children an insight into the everyday life of a baby in the past.

Both activities prompted many discussions, questions and amazement as the children learned about the past and changes over time.
